

When reporting datasets based on lake sediments archives (density), for new datasets, should the density name (e.g., wet bulk density) be considered essential, recommended or desired?

