

When reporting datasets based on lake sediments archives (accumulation rate), for legacy datasets, should the density be considered essential, recommended or desired?

