

When reporting datasets based on chronologies (U series), for new datasets, should the $^{230}\text{Th}/^{232}\text{Th}$ activity or atom ratio be considered essential, recommended or desired?

