

When reporting datasets based on marine sediments archives (bulk sediment geochemistry), for new datasets, should the sample pretreatment be considered essential, recommended or desired?

