

When reporting datasets based on lake sediments archives (mineralogy), for legacy datasets, should the analytical method be considered essential, recommended or desired?

