

When reporting datasets based on uncertainties (models), for new datasets, should the output summary statistics (e.g., mean, media, standard deviation) be considered essential, recommended or desired?

