

When reporting datasets based on marine sediments archives (foraminiferal stable isotope), for new datasets, should the standard (e.g. VPDB) be considered essential, recommended or desired?

