

When reporting datasets based on cross archives, for legacy datasets, should the calibrated values be considered essential, recommended or desired?

