

When reporting datasets based on chronologies (U series), for new datasets, should the all isotopes ratios and concentrations measured be considered essential, recommended or desired?

