

*When reporting datasets based on trees archives (stable isotope), for legacy datasets, should the were samples pooled or are samples single ring/single tree measurements be considered essential,
recommended or desired?*

