

When reporting datasets based on chronologies (software), for new datasets, should the code be considered essential, recommended or desired?

