

When reporting datasets based on cross archives, for legacy compilations, should the publication authors be considered essential, recommended or desired?

