

When reporting datasets based on marine sediments archives (CDGTs), for new datasets, should the definition of the index used be considered essential, recommended or desired?

