

When reporting datasets based on trees archives (stable isotope), for new datasets, should the what portion of the ring was analyzed be considered essential, recommended or desired?

