

When reporting datasets based on cross archives, for legacy datasets, should the depth/distance/position in the archive be considered essential, recommended or desired?

