

When reporting datasets based on trees archives, for legacy datasets, should the soil description be considered essential, recommended or desired?

