

When reporting datasets based on trees archives (stable isotope), for new datasets, should the whether samples were pre-treated by conversion to alpha cellulose, holo cellulose or left unprocessed be considered essential, recommended or desired?

