

When reporting datasets based on historical documents archives, for legacy datasets, should the quote's protolanguage be considered essential, recommended or desired?

