

When reporting datasets based on marine sediments archives (alkenones), for legacy datasets, should the analytical method (retention time vs mass spec, LOD, LOQ) be considered essential, recommended or desired?

