

When reporting datasets based on trees archives (stable isotope), for legacy datasets, should the ^{13}C data corrected for Seuss effect be considered essential, recommended or desired?

