

When reporting datasets based on historical documents archives, for new datasets, should the quote's doi be considered essential, recommended or desired?

