

When reporting datasets based on speleothem archives (physical sample), for new datasets, should the speleothem type (e.g. candlestick, flowstone) be considered essential, recommended or desired?

