

When reporting datasets based on marine sediments archives (micropaleontological), for legacy datasets, should the training set be considered essential, recommended or desired?

