

When reporting datasets based on cross archives, for legacy datasets, should the physical sample name be considered essential, recommended or desired?

