When reporting datasets based on cross archives, for new datasets, should the information about how depth is transformed to age be considered essential, recommended or desired?