When reporting datasets based on trees archives, for legacy datasets, should the taxonomy (genus/species) be considered essential, recommended or desired?