When reporting datasets based on chronologies (software), for legacy datasets, should the parameters be considered essential, recommended or desired?