When reporting datasets based on cross archives, for legacy compilations, should the funding principal investigator be considered essential, recommended or desired?